

+ SOCIETY +

THE time of revelry is at hand, and with a final glance at the "fashions of Egypt," Miss Society will begin to do "the things she's left undone" in the shape of evening party calls and preparations for coming gaiety. The season closes after an occasional fast between the feast, for Ash Wednesday does not usher in so rigorous a season as to entirely do away with all social gaiety, but it simply marks the close of the winter season, and dances are tabooed. There will be endless luncheons, teas and dinners, quite sufficient to satisfy any normal debauchee throughout the "forty days" until Easter, when most of the youngest set will attend the German and other functions given at that season at the various colleges near at hand.

The season closes after a long series of very brilliant and handsome entertainments. Never have the debutantes been more feted, and Richmond society has seldom seen handomer affairs than those that formally introduced the young girls this winter. The month of January was filled with engagements for Mrs. Swanson, the retiring Governor's wife, and nearly every day some of her friends entertained in some way or another in her honor.

The inaugural reception at the Executive Mansion that introduced the charming wife of the new Governor to Richmond society and the people of the State in general was a very brilliant affair indeed, and distinguished guests from all parts of Virginia were present on this occasion to welcome the new mistress of the Mansion. Mrs. Mann has a wide circle of friends here, and was Miss Dorman, of Petersburg, before her marriage, and was one of the most belles and beauties of Southern Virginia.

The last dance given by the Richmond German Club to-morrow night at the Masonic Temple, and the appearance of the Academics at the Academy of Music on Tuesday evening will close the winter season in Richmond, and only a few illegible dance cards and probably a forgotten rose in somebody's pocket are left to tell the tale of the triumphs and capitulations that have marked the career of the season's belle since November.

Prominent Weddings This Week.

Probably the most brilliant and interesting marriage that has taken place this season, from the standpoint of Richmond society at least, will be that of Miss Willis Wilson, of Charleston, W. Va., to Clement Barksdale Lathrop, of this city, which will be celebrated on Tuesday evening, February 8, at half-past 8 o'clock, in St. John's Church, Charleston. A brilliant reception will follow the ceremony, and a large party of Richmond people will leave to-morrow to attend the wedding. Miss Wilson has been a much-feted bride, as many as thirty handsome entertainments being given in her honor.

The bridesmaids will be: Misses Ashton, Woodman, Charlotte, Woodman and Helen Lathrop, sister of the groom. They will wear exquisite white frocks, and carry Bermuda lilies. The bride will be attended by her two sisters—Misses Ashton and Nan Wilson—who will also be gowned in white and carry lilies.

Hiram M. Smith, William Forbes, Robert Polard, of this city, and William H. Langhorne, of Albemarle, will be groomsmen, and Stuart Gratton Christian and C. Pickett Lathrop will be the best man and first groomsmen. The bride will enter the church on the arm of her cousin, John Donnelly, of Charleston, by whom she will be given away. Mr. Lathrop and his bride will spend their honeymoon in Canada.

Another prominent wedding to be celebrated this week is that of Miss Mary Fella Bolling, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bartlett Bolling, of Charlottesville, Va., to Dr. Robert Taylor Shackelford, of Gainesville, Va. Miss Bolling's mother was Miss Meta Lomax Stuart, of Alexandria, one of the most beautiful and attractive belles of Northern Virginia. She is a granddaughter of the late Colonel Robert H. Bolling, of "Centre Hill," Petersburg, and is a direct descendant of Robert Bolling, of Bradford, England, who settled in Virginia in 1660 and married Jane Rolfe, granddaughter of Pocahontas.

Dr. Shackelford is the son of the late Dr. Robert B. Shackelford, of Clinton, Va., and graduated from the University of Virginia two years ago. The ceremony will take place on Tuesday evening at half-past 6 o'clock in the chapel of the University of Virginia. The Rev. Harry B. Lee, rector of Christ Church, Charlottesville, will officiate. Miss Louise Fontaine will preside at the organ, and will be assisted by Miss Kate McNeill on the violin.

Miss Sadie Stuart Bolling will attend her sister as maid of honor, and Dr. Archibald Cary Randolph, of Millwood, will be the groom's best man. J. Hanson Boyden, of Washington,

William Douglas Page of Washington; John Trevillian Wingo, of Richmond; and Joseph B. Waples, of Georgetown, Del., will act as ushers. The bride will enter with her father, by whom she will be given away. A reception will follow the ceremony at the home of the bride, to which the relatives of the bride and groom, a few intimate friends and the out-of-town guests are invited, also the members of the Phi Gamma Delta fraternity, of which organization the groom is a member.

Miss Chevington to Entertain.
Miss Margaret Chevington, of 1929 West Grace Street, has issued invitations for a very attractive reception on the afternoon of Tuesday, February 8, from 5 to 7 o'clock, in honor of Misses Bessie Holland and Therese Nurney, of Suffolk, who are the house guests of Mrs. Thomas A. Smyth, 2338 Monument Avenue, for several weeks. Miss Chevington will be assisted in receiving by the guests of honor. A number of charming entertainments have been given for Miss Nurney and Miss Holland during their visit to the city.

Leaves for Michigan.
Miss Anne Keith Royall left yesterday for Flint, Mich., where she will be the guest of Miss Dudley Powers. Miss Royall and Miss Powers will travel in the Northwest, visiting friends in Detroit and other cities. Miss Royall will be absent from Richmond about two months in all.

Luncheon Wednesday.
Mrs. John D. Stayman was hostess at a beautifully appointed luncheon at the Woodland Club on Wednesday in honor of Mrs. Richard Evelyn Byrd, of Winchester, who is spending several months in Richmond. The table was covered with a lacywork of pink roses and snail, and the candles were shaded in rose color. Dainty hand-painted cards marked the places of the guests, and covers were laid for nine.

Mrs. Stayman's guests included Mrs. Richard Evelyn Byrd, Mrs. Thomas Bolling, Mrs. Ebert Leigh, Jr., Mrs. James E. Cannon, Miss Gertrude Cannon, Mrs. Andrew Jackson Gray, Jr., Mrs. Clara M. Hallie Webb, of interest here.

An especially handsome event of the season was the buffet luncheon given in the afternoon Wednesday by Mrs. Lewis S. Clarke, of New Orleans, complimentary to Miss Olive Manson, the debutante daughter of Mrs. James Pagaud. The beautiful home of the hostess, in St. Charles Avenue, was exquisitely decorated throughout the numerous reception rooms with palms and snail, and on the mantels were banded daisy ferns, studded with lavender buds. Mrs. Clarke was wearing in a gown of black lace over lavender silk, with which she carried violets. Miss Manson and Mrs. Pagaud were assisting her to receive, the former wearing a lovely gown of lavender crepe de chine, with trimmings in point applique lace and touches of royal purple velvet. A beautiful cluster of orchids, jonquills and violets arranged with fern, Mrs. Pagaud wore lavender messaline with duchess lace trimmings and with it a corsage bouquet of violets. The gowns of members of the receiving party carried out the color scheme of the decorations, which were in the carnival colors.

Among the guests were Misses Margaret Riddick, Catherine Robinson, and Elise Parrish, of Richmond, who are guests of friends in New Orleans for the Mardi Gras.

After the dining room the table was set with a tall French basket filled with tulips, daffodils and white violets in the center and small vases filled with violets between the settings. Misses Elizabeth Clarke, the young daughter of the hostess, and Miss Lillian Egan, were serving the guests. An orchestra played during the luncheon.

Miss Nellie Tabb, of Baltimore, who is also a guest for the carnival, was among those present at a very charming affair this week at which Miss Catherine Robertson was hostess, having the few friends informally to meet Miss Susanne Cable, of Rock Island, Ill., who is a visitor to New Orleans now.

Bridge was played, and decorations were in yellow flowers with a cluster of yellow daisies on the table. A few of the guests were in later for tea. Mrs. Ralph Hopkins presided at the tea table.

Mr. and Mrs. Seabrook Entertained.

Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Olivier gave a dinner Wednesday night at the Stafford, in Baltimore, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Seabrook, who were formerly Miss Louise Fannin, of Staunton, Va., who are spending the winter at the Severn. The guests, who afterwards went to the opera, included Mr. and Mrs. Duncan K. Brent, Mr. and Mrs. William Pinkney Whyte, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Donnelly, Mr. and Mrs. Berkeley Williams and Charles Gilmore Whyte.

Women's Club.

Henry W. Baker will give a piano recital at the Woman's Club on Monday afternoon at half-past 4 o'clock, assisted by Miss Lillian West, soprano. Mr. Baker is a comparative stranger in Richmond, having come here

DON'T TRY PRESSURE

Trust No Intelligence.

You cannot by process of law prevent any one from drugging themselves to death. We must meet the evil by an appeal to the intelligence.

One of the drugs that does the most harm to Americans, because of its widespread use and apparent innocence, is coffee.

Ask any regular coffee drinker if he or she is perfectly well. At least one-half are not.

Only those with extra vigor can keep well against the daily attack of caffeine (in the coffee). The heart and pulse gradually lose strength; dyspepsia, kidney troubles and nervous diseases of some sort set in, and the clearly marked effects of coffee poisoning are shown.

These are facts and worth any one's thought. The reasonable and sensible thing is to leave it off and shift to Postum. The poison that has been secretly killing is thus withdrawn, and a powerful rebuilding agent put to work.

The good effects generally begin to show inside of 10 days. If health and comfort are worth anything to you, try it.

Old Pictures Saved

A SPECIALTY WITH FOSTER

"How few of us there are who have not—hidden away in some bureau or closet—some almost forgotten, almost faded picture—memories of dear ones who have passed to the Great Beyond."

"Possibly, too, we have been fearfully watching, as the years go round, the steady but relentless fading that promises ere long to make these dear treasures but a memory indeed."

"Perhaps it is some old Daguerreotype, in its little old worn-out leather case, showing on its dimmed silver surface the quaint picture of some grandparent, or a father or mother in the baby days, with little straggly curls and the low-necked dress affected in those 'good old days' of the early Victorian period."

"Why not perpetuate these old picture-memories while there is yet an opportunity. A few years hence even the faintest outlines may have vanished forever."

"Foster methods will give you a lasting copy of such pictures, and our skillful work will preserve to you the portraits that you have almost despaired of, and give them to you in most cases even clearer and more reminiscently than the faded copies you have now."

"Why not bring those old pictures to us. We, at least, will truthfully tell you whether it is too late to save them."
